Introduction

We wish to put on the record our deep appreciation to all who contributed to this Report, whatever their role. Without the knowledge, expertise, dedication, generosity and self-sacrifice of many organisations, friends and colleagues - from Timor-Leste, Indonesia and many parts of the world, this magnum opus would not have been possible.

Those to whom we owe a debt of gratitude include all who provided the raw material for our work: our Timorese brothers and sisters who shared their experiences and information with the Commission through statements, interviews and public testimony; those who provided books, documents and submissions; our staff who collected and recorded data, and those who organised and archived this mass of information. We also give thanks to those who transformed this material through its various stages into this Report: our analysts, researchers, writers, translators, editors, designers, layout staff, and printers. And finally, we extend our warmest thanks to those who provided the means of production: our administrative and support staff and the governments, multilateral agencies and non-government organisations who generously supported the Commission with funding and in-kind assistance.

Their names and contributions are recorded in the pages that follow. We thank each and every one of them for sharing our vision of a Timor-Leste reconciled and committed to human rights and for helping us contribute to the realisation of that vision through our work.

Those who gave statements to CAVR

A total of 7,824 people from all walks of life gave statements to CAVR about their experiences during the period of CAVR's mandate. Their names are not listed here both for reasons of space and to respect the confidentiality under which some people gave their statement to CAVR.

CAVR wishes to publicly acknowledge and thank every individual whose statement to CAVR has helped us to establish the facts and seek the truth about the abuses of human rights throughout the mandate period.

Those who participated in CRP

A total of 1,541 people gave statements in relation to the Community Reconciliation Process of which 1,371 went on to successfully complete a CRP hearing. Again for reasons of space and confidentiality their names are not listed here.

CAVR wishes to publicly acknowledge and thank all those individuals and communities who participated in the Community Reconciliation Processes.
